

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff

v.

PAIGE A. THOMPSON,

Defendant.

NO. MJ19-0344

UNITED STATES' MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR DETENTION

The United States of America, by and through Brian T. Moran, United States Attorney for the Western District of Washington, and Andrew C. Friedman and Steven T. Masada, Assistant United States Attorneys for said District, files this memorandum in support of its motion to detain Defendant Paige A. Thompson pending resolution of this criminal matter.

I. INTRODUCTION

On July 29, 2019, Defendant Paige A. Thompson, also known by the online alias “erratic,” was arrested based on evidence that she had hacked into servers rented or contracted by Capital One Financial Corporation (“Capital One”) from a cloud computing company. The same day, she made her initial appearance in this Court, charged by complaint with Computer Fraud and Abuse, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, § 862. The United States Attorney for the Western District of Washington, by and through Brian T. Moran, Andrew C. Friedman, and Steven T. Masada, Assistant United States Attorneys for said District, files this memorandum in support of its motion to detain Defendant Paige A. Thompson pending resolution of this criminal matter.

1 States Code, Section 1030(a)(2). The United States filed a motion for pretrial detention.
 2 That hearing, at the defense's request, was continued until August 15, 2019.

3 The government understands that the United States Probation and Pretrial Services
 4 Office ("Pretrial Services") is recommending that Thompson be detained. The 5 government agrees with this recommendation. Thompson has a long history of 6 threatening behavior that includes repeated threats to kill others, to kill herself, and to 7 commit suicide by cop. Thompson's threats have resulted in multiple calls to law
 8 enforcement, and the entry of protection orders against Thompson. Thompson's crime in 9 this case – major cyber intrusions that resulted in the theft of massive amounts of data
 10 from what now appears to be more than 30 victim companies – only exacerbates the harm
 11 that Thompson has done, and the threat she would pose if released. As a result, the Court 12 should order Thompson detained, both as a danger to the community, and as a risk of 13 non-appearance.

14 II. BACKGROUND

15 A. Thompson's Background

16 Thompson has a long history of threatening and violent behavior – including 17 threats to kill others and herself, and to commit suicide by cop – that has resulted in 18 multiple calls to law enforcement, and the entry of protection orders against Thompson.

- 19 ■ In October 2018, two individuals, a couple, sought protection orders
 20 against Thompson. As set forth in a police report and their petitions, 21 attached as Exhibits 1, 2, and 3, Thompson harassed and stalked the 22 couple over the course of seven years (from 2011 through 2018). The 23 harassment, which included leaving notes and personal items at the 24 petitioners' residence, repeatedly contacting them through social 25 media (including through newly-created accounts after the victims 26 blocked earlier accounts), and sending what the victims felt were 27 threatening text messages and emails, was so severe that it contributed 28 to the couple moving. The King County District Court entered protection orders, attached as Exhibit 4 and 5, in favor of both the wife and husband, each for a term of five years, with the possibility of renewal for an additional term.

1 ■ In March 2019, police were called to Thompson's residence after 2 Thompson became violent with her housemates. According to the 3 police report, attached as Exhibit 6, Thompson had become agitated.
 4 When a housemate tried to intervene, Thompson tried to strike the 5 housemate. Notably, Thompson's housemates reported that 6 Thompson had threatened to retrieve a fake gun in the house and use it
 7 to commit "suicide by cop." Thompson's housemates also stated that 8 Thompson had a history during the entire time that she lived at the 9 house of getting "incredibly angry at a moment's notice and 10 becom[ing] destructive to property and assaultive" to others.

11 ■ And, perhaps most concerning, in May 2019, police were called to 12 Thompson's residence after Thompson contacted an acquaintance at a 13 California technology office, and threatened to travel to the company's 14 campus in California and to "shoot up" the office. According to the 15 police report, attached as Exhibit 7, Thompson made this threat in a 16 string of messages that concerned the friend enough that he reported it
 17 to the police. Significantly, at the time that she made this threat, 18 Thompson had access to the weapons to commit such an act through 19 her housemate – namely, the arsenal of assault rifles and other guns of 20 her roommate, Park Quan (discussed further below).

21 Thompson's threats have continued, on social media in recent months. For 22 example, in June 2019, Thompson conveyed her readiness to "check the f-ck out," and 23 said that she had "nothing to lose," but that she was "taking [her] time to pick off a few 24 that deserve to go down":
 25
 26
 27
 28

Not you, im just saying because you asked

Jun 20, 2019, 10:07 AM

Thompson also recently has threatened people who call law enforcement about her, as well as threatened to kill officers who respond to such calls:

Replying to @0xA3A97B6C

But not the bitch ass n[REDACTED] who call the cops "omg save this person from themselves" bitch fuck you ill shoot those pigs, and then im coming for you next, naaaaaagh!

In addition to this history of threats – and, perhaps, explaining in part the threats – Thompson appears to have significant mental-health issues. According to one of the 1 victims of Thompson's harassment, Thompson has longstanding mental-health issues.

 2 See Exhibit 1. Indeed, Thompson herself has told others that she takes psychiatric 3 medications. See Exhibit 7.

4 Thompson also has been unemployed since 2016, has no known employment
 5 prospects if released, and, according to Thompson's housemates, is not welcome back at 6 her residence.

7 B. Thompson's Crime

8 1. Thompson's Theft of Capital One's Data

9 Thompson is charged with committing a massive data theft. Thompson was 10 arrested for, and currently is charged with, intruding into servers rented or contracted by 11 Capital One, and with stealing huge volumes of data from those servers. According to 12 Capital One, Thompson stole information in credit card applications of approximately 13 106 million people. Although some of the information (such as most Social Security 14 numbers) was encrypted, other information, such as applicants' names, addresses, dates
 15 of birth, and information about their credit history was not encrypted. Moreover, the data
 16 included unencrypted Social Security Numbers and bank account numbers for smaller 17 numbers of customers (estimated at 120,000 of the former, and 77,000 of the latter, as of 18 the date of Thompson's arrest).

19 The evidence that Thompson committed this crime is overwhelming. It includes 20 forensic evidence linking Thompson to the data theft, which resulted in this Court's 21 issuance of a warrant to search Thompson's residence. It includes the fact that the 22 government recovered data stolen from Capital One on a server recovered from 23 Thompson's bedroom. And, it includes the fact that Thompson admitted to agents on the 24 morning of the search that she had committed this intrusion.

25 Thompson's crime has done massive harm to Capital One. Capital One already is 26 the subject of 40 lawsuits in the United States, and eight more lawsuits in Canada.
 27 Capital One has announced that it expects the incident to result in costs of between $100
 28 and 150 million in 2019. See <https://www.wsj.com/articles/capital-one-reports-data->

1 breach-11564443355 (dated July 30, 2019). (According to some estimates, the company
 2 might ultimately face significantly more exposure. See, e.g.,
 3 <https://fortune.com/2019/07/31/capital-one-data-breach-2019-paige-thompson-settlement>
 4 (dated July 31, 2019) (estimating costs of up to $500 million).) And, the company's 5 stock price has dropped approximately 10% since the breach was announced, erasing
 6 billions of dollars from the company's market capitalization.

7 2. Thompson's Theft of Other Company's Data

8 The government's investigation over the last two weeks has revealed that 9 Thompson's theft of Capital One's data was only one part of her criminal conduct. The 10 servers seized from Thompson's bedroom during the search of Thompson's residence,
 11 include not only data stolen from Capital One, but also multiple terabytes of data stolen
 12 by Thompson from more than 30 other companies, educational institutions, and other 13 entities. That data varies significantly in both type and amount. For example, much of 14 the data appears not to be data containing personal identifying information. At this point, 15 however, the government is continuing to work to identify specific entities from which 16 data was stolen, as well as the type of data stolen from each entity. The government
 17 expects to add an additional charge against Thompson based upon each such theft of data, 18 as the victims are identified and notified.

19 The government notes that Thompson has represented that she neither sold, nor 20 otherwise shared or disseminated any of the data that she stole (from Capital One or any 21 other victim), and that the copy of the data that the government recovered during the 22 search of Thompson's residence is the only copy of the stolen data that she created. It is 23 too early to confirm that this is the case. The government is continuing its investigation, 24 which will take a significant amount of time and resources, given the immense amount of 25 forensic evidence to review. To date, however, the government has not uncovered any 26 evidence that would suggest Thompson's statement that she neither sold, nor otherwise 27 disseminated, any of the data beyond the servers that the government recovered is untrue.
 28

3. Other Evidence Recovered from Thompson's Residence.

Although Thompson's residence originally was searched pursuant to a warrant seeking evidence of Thompson's cybercrimes, during the course of searching the residence, agents found additional evidence relevant to the issue of Thompson's detention. Specifically, within the bedroom of Thompson's roommate, Park Quan, agents observed what can fairly be described as an arsenal of weapons, ammunition, and explosive material, largely unsecured and accessible to his housemates, including Thompson. Because Quan is a convicted felon, and not allowed to possess firearms, agents obtained a follow-on search warrant to seize firearms and related items.

Pursuant to that warrant, agents seized 14 firearms, including assault rifles, a sniper rifle, and hand guns. Some of the guns were loaded, including one with a high-capacity magazine. At least one appears to be short-barreled. Also recovered were two bump stocks, which are designed to be attached to semiautomatic firearms in place of conventional stocks, enabling them to fire bullets more rapidly, mimicking a fully-automatic weapon, two 37 mm "flare launchers," which can be used to shoot a variety of projectiles, and multiple high-capacity magazines. The fact that all of these weapons were recovered in the bedroom adjacent to Thompson, most of them readily accessible to her, is obviously of concern, given Thompson's recurrent threats to commit violence against herself and others.

III. DISCUSSION

Thompson poses both a significant danger to the community and a risk of nonappearance. Pretrial Services has indicated that it will recommend detention for Thompson. The government agrees Thompson should be detained.

A. The Legal Standard

18 U.S.C. § 3142(f)(2)(A) provides that the court shall "hold a hearing to determine whether any condition or combination of conditions . . . will reasonably assure the appearance of [a defendant] and the safety of any other person and the community" upon motion of the government in any "case that involves . . . a serious risk that such

1 person will flee.” If Thompson were released, there is a serious risk that she would fail to 2 appear for future proceedings, both because she might flee, and because she might follow
 3 through on her repeated threats to harm herself (particularly now that she is facing 4 criminal prosecution and a substantial term of imprisonment).

5 At a detention hearing, 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g) provides that the court

6 shall . . . take into account

- 7 (1) the nature and circumstances of the offense charged;
- 8 (2) the weight of the evidence against the person;
- 9 (3) the history and characteristics of the person . . . and
- 10 (4) the nature and seriousness of the danger to any person or the 11 community that would be posed by the person’s release . . . .

12 B. Thompson Should be Detained as a Danger

13 Each and every one of § 3142(g) factors counsels strongly for detention in 14 Thompson’s case. First, the nature and circumstances of the offense with which 15 Thompson is charged are tremendously serious. Thompson is charged with committing 16 one of the largest cyber intrusions and data thefts in history. (Although the Equifax
 17 breach reportedly involved the theft of personal information of approximately 143
 18 million people, Thompson’s intrusion dwarfs most other famous breaches. For instance,
 19 the Target breach involved personal information of only approximately 41 million 20 people.) According to Capital One, Thompson’s intrusion involved the theft of 21 information of approximately 106 million customers. The threat or harm to those 22 individuals is massive.

23 And Capital One is only of the victims of Thompson’s criminal conduct. As noted
 24 above, the evidence recovered from Thompson’s residence suggests that Thompson 25 intruded into servers operated, rented, or contracted by over 30 companies, educational 26 institutions, and other entities. Although not all of those intrusions involved the theft of 27 personal identifying information, it appears likely that a number of the intrusions did.

28 Moreover, even if it is true that the government recovered all of the stolen data, the impact of Thompson’s crime will be immense. Capital One alone already has been sued in 48 separate cases, has estimated that it will incur $100 to $150 million of additional costs in 2019, and presumably will incur even higher costs before the consequences of Thompson's actions are fully resolved. Presumably, many of the other victims of Thompson's intrusions and thefts also will incur substantial costs.

Second, the weight of the evidence is overwhelming. Thompson openly boasted about her exploits on various social media forums.

Data that Thompson stole from Capital One, and other victims, was recovered from a server in Thompson's bedroom. And, in a post-arrest statement, Thompson admitted to the data intrusion and theft of data from entities, including Capital One.

Third, Thompson's history and characteristics further weigh in favor of detention. Thompson has a long history of threats to kill others, to kill herself, and to commit suicide by cop. The threats are serious enough that they have resulted in multiple calls to law enforcement and restraining orders. The threats likely are related to, and intertwined with, what appears to be a significant history of mental health problems. In addition, Thompson lacks both a residence to which she could be released and employment to provide her structure and stability.

Finally, Thompson's release would pose an extremely serious danger to the community. It would pose such a danger on multiple levels. First, Thompson would pose a danger of violence. After repeated threats to kill others or herself, or to commit suicide by cop, Thompson clearly poses a physical danger. In today's America, it is easy enough to obtain firearms, and there is every reason to be concerned that Thompson, who

1 repeatedly has threatened to kill, would obtain the means to carry out, and carry out, her
2 threats – particularly when confronted with the alternative of near-certain conviction and 3 imprisonment.

4       Second, Thompson would pose a technological danger. Thompson’s conduct
5 already almost certainly has caused hundreds of millions of dollars of damage. If 6 Thompson were released, if she does in fact have another copy of the stolen data,
7 Thompson could sell or disseminate it. And, even if she does not have another copy,
8 Thompson’s technical sophistication means that she could commit additional cyber 9 intrusions, thereby likely causing additional hundreds of millions of dollars of damage.
10 Both risks are of particular concern given Thompson’s instability. Regardless of what 11 Thompson might promise the Court, she previously has threatened to disseminate stolen
12 data containing tens of millions of people’s personal identifying information. See, e.g.,
13 Twitter Post on page 9 (threatening to “distribute [Capital One’s] buckets”). There are no
14 reasonable assurances that she would not follow through on such a threat in the future.

15       The government presumes that Thompson’s counsel will argue that, if released, 16 Thompson would be under appropriate mental-health care, thereby mitigating the risk of 17 releasing Thompson. But, Thompson’s mental-health conditions are long-standing and 18 well-known to Thompson. And Thompson made the threats and committed the crimes 19 that counsel against her release, even while apparently receiving mental-health treatment.
20 There is no reason to believe that any mental-health treatment that Thompson might 21 receive while on release would be any more effective in reducing the danger that 22 Thompson would pose than her prior treatment.

23       Simply put, if Thompson is released, there is every reason to believe that 24 Thompson would resort to threats, violence, or cybercrime. And, if Thompson were 25 inclined to resort to violence, or to conduct future cyber intrusions, no condition or 26 combination of conditions could adequately prevent her from doing so.

1 C. Risk of Flight

2 In addition to being a danger, Thompson also poses a risk of nonappearance. She 3 has a history of mental-health issues and of severely erratic and bizarre (and often
 4 violent) behavior, despite her participation in treatment programs. Thompson can offer
 5 no sound rationale why she would fair differently under court-imposed conditions.
 6 Indeed, Thompson now faces very serious charges, overwhelming evidence, and a
 7 significant sentence. The immense added stress caused by her current circumstances
 8 presumably will only serve to intensify the unpredictability of her future actions.

9 Moreover, the risk that Thompson would flee, or otherwise fail to appear, cannot 10 be adequately addressed by court-imposed conditions of release. As courts repeatedly 11 have recognized, electronic monitoring has many uses, but it does not prevent flight. See,
 12 e.g., United States v. Townsend, 897 F.2d 989, 994-95 (9th Cir. 1990) (“Nor does the 13 wearing of an electronic device offer assurance against flight occurring before measures
 14 can be taken to prevent a detected departure from the jurisdiction.”) And there is no way 15 of ensuring that Thompson, who repeatedly has threatened to kill herself (including, 16 tangentially, at her initial appearance), and who so far has offered no solution to address
 17 her recent history of such threats, would not, in fact, harm herself.

18 Like danger to others and the community, these concerns of nonappearance are 19 further aggravated by Thompson’s lack of employment and stable residence. Put simply,
 20 Thompson’s risk of nonappearance further counsels for detention.

B. Describe other incidents of harassment or stalking. For each incident, include the date, time (on or about), location, what was said, how statements were made, and what was done to a victim.

Respondent has contacted us multiple times since 2011. We have ignored previous attempts to ~~not~~ contact but the stalking and harassment continues. In approx. Dec. 2014 she stopped by our house and left notes and personal items on our porch. We moved to get away from her. She has stalked me on social media and creates new Facebook accounts to contact me. She also reached out to me on GitHub, which I reported to them as abuse.

See attached documents from most recent attempts.

Police Incident # 18-397711

NO

8. Has the respondent previously committed an offense that makes him or her ineligible to possess a firearm under the provisions of RCW 9.41.040? Please describe:

unknown

9. Does possession of a firearm or other dangerous weapon by the respondent present a serious and imminent threat to public health or safety, or to the health or safety of a victim? Please describe:

☐ No

☒ Yes. I have attached the following evidence:

☐ Copy of social media messages

☒ Police report Incident # 18-397711

☐ Declaration or Affidavit from the following witness: _____

☐ Other (describe): _____

11. Has/have the victim/s or the respondent ever requested or obtained protection from the other person in a restraining order, civil protection order, or criminal no-contact order?

If yes, list the type of order, the name of the court and the approximate date, and whether the request was granted:

no

12. Is there any other litigation between the victim/s and the respondent? This includes all matters - pending or past - such as parenting plans, landlord-tenant disputes, employment disputes, or property disputes. If yes, provide case number/s if known, type of case, and name of court:

➤ Requests

13. I ask the Court for an order approving the following requests for protection:

I Request an Order for Protection following a hearing that will:

<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No-Contact: restrain the respondent from making any attempts or having any contact, including nonphysical contact, with the person/s to be protected, directly, indirectly, or through third parties regardless of whether those third parties know of the order, except for mailing of court documents.
<input type="checkbox"/> Surveillance: prohibit or restrain the respondent from making any attempt to keep or from keeping the person/s to be protected under surveillance, including electronic surveillance.
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Exclude from places: exclude the respondent from the <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> residence <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> workplace <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> school <input type="checkbox"/> day care of the person/s to be protected.

<input type="checkbox"/> Other: _____
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Evaluation: Order the respondent to have a <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> mental health <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> chemical dependency evaluation. <input type="checkbox"/> other: _____

<input type="checkbox"/> Duration: Remain effective longer than one year because respondent is likely to resume acts of unlawful harassment or stalking conduct against the persons to be protected if the order expires in a year.

Emergency temporary protection (up to 14 days) until the court hearing:

☒ An emergency exists as described below. I request that a Temporary Protection Order granting the relief I requested above for a no-contact, surveillance, exclude from places, or stay away order be issued immediately, without prior notice to the respondent, to be effective until the hearing.

☐ I also request a temporary surrender of a firearm or other dangerous weapon without notice to the other party because irreparable injury could result if an order is not issued until the hearing.

What irreparable harm would result if an order is not issued immediately without prior notice to the respondent?

I expect respondent will continue harassment and stalking.

I certify under penalty of perjury under the laws of the state of Washington that the foregoing is true and correct.

While en route to the call location I received several updates via radio that the suspect was outside the residence banging on windows and that the call taker could hear her yelling and previously banging on the walls. Upon arrival I contacted the female outside the home who immediately asserted that she had done nothing wrong. She was identified as V/Thompson, Paige. I also contacted the roommates inside the residence. They told me Paige had suddenly and inexplicably began yelling at striking the walls and doors. When her roommate JDE tried to intervene, Paige turned assaultive and tried to strike JDE. JDE then forced Paige outside in self-defense. JDE advised me that Paige has threatened to retrieve a fake gun that belongs to another roommate and use it to commit "suicide by cop." JDE and the other roommates stated Paige's outbursts are an ongoing problem, and have been for the two years she has lived there. She gets incredibly angry at a moment's

Paige stated she was upset about something that had gone wrong with her computer and began yelling and struck a door when JDE entered her room, grabbed her by the hair and forced her out of the home. The incident was screened with A/SGT Ristau at the precinct.]

NARRATIVE

On 5.23.2019 I was working in full uniform driving a fully marked patrol car for the Seattle Police Department as unit, CRT6; I was assigned to the Crisis Response Unit. Mariah Andrignis #X055 was working with me as an additional resource for mental health related issues on this call.

At 1031 hours dispatch created a 911 call for "assist other agency" after receiving a teletype from Detective Frank Rivas of the Mountain View Police Department in California. The teletype was regarding a suspect, Paige Thompson (1986), who had threatened to shoot up the campus in California. The call read as follows from dispatch: VIA TELETYPE. ATL SUSP WHO THREATENED TO GO TO THE BAY AREA IN CA AND SHOOT UP OFCRS AT AGENCY REQ EVAL FOR INVOL AND CONTACT DET.

I am familiar with Paige Thompson and my unit has a response plan for her. In the past, she has threatened suicide by cop and made other threats via social media to on her twitter account. Every previous attempt to contact Thompson at her residence has been unsuccessful and she has threatened that she has a bb gun and will force officers to shoot her.

I spoke with the complainant over the phone, Detective Frank Rivas. I informed him that our department was familiar with Thompson. Rivas explained that he was unable to pursue any charges based on the incident, however, he would consider whether or not wanted to issue Thompson trespass paperwork or if they would pursue a no contact order based on her threats. If any assistance is needed for future service, our agency will oblige.

I asked Rivas to send me the police report with the specific threats that were made. I received a police report via email from Rivas; Mountain View Police Department Case No. 19003729. The report indicated that on 5.21.2019 Thompson had sent twitter messages to a former Amazon co-worker, JB JB resides in California and currently works for Thompson sent the following messages:

"I feel bad, when my cat dies, I'm going to California to shoot up office I hope you are not there"

"sorry"

"but it has to be done"

"you're really not gonna like me when you realize where this is going but it has to be this way, I have no choice"

"try to think about this from my point of view, what has @ done for the world? I know they're responsible for my continued unemployment. You know what has to be done. I like you but I can't let you stand in the way of what has to be done."

JB had responded to Thompson and her response was: "Yeah? Maybe spd could do something kind and come over and shoot me"

Moutnain View PD has already investigated the threats and such has been documented under the above listed MVPD case number.

JB stated that he did not think Thompson posed an immediate threat to on that day, however, he did make a report to twitter and MVPD. The report includes a statement from JB stating that he had called Thompson and spoke with her briefly on the phone Thompson stated she still lived in Seattle, she did not have access to any weapons, was currently taking psychiatric medications and had no monetary or transportation means to come to California.

Mariah Andrignis contacted Thompson's mental health agency, Seattle Counseling Services. She was able to speak Thompson's case manager and inform them of Thompson's behavior.

I checked my unit's database for vetted Extreme Risk Protection Orders and located that I had vetted Thompson for an ERPO on May 24, 2018; Thompson was already ineligible to possess firearms due to mental health reasons and involuntary commitment.

Thompson's case manager has been informed of her behavior/threats. I will be making a DCR referral for further outreach and assessment.
